AT the Court at St. James's, the 25th of September 1799,

PRESENT,

The KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, paſſed in the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, intituled "An Act to "encourage the Trade in the Levant Seas, by "providing a more convenient Mode of perform-"ing Quarantine, and for reducing the Duty "granted by an Act of the laſt Seſſion on Goods "the Manufacture of Great Britain, exported to "any Place within the Streights of Gibraltar," it is declared to be expedient to permit Goods and Merchandize to be imported from the Levant, under certain Regulations and Reſtrictions, without having been opened and aired in the Lazarets of any of the Ports or Places mentioned in an Act, paſſed in the Twenty-ſixth Year of His late Majeſty King George the Second, intituled "An Act for en-"larging and regulating the Trade into the Le-"vant Seas." Copy of a Letter from Andrew Mitchell, Eſq; Vice-Admiral of the Blue, to Evan Nepean, Eſq; dated on board His Majeſty's Ship Iſis, near the Vleiter, Sept. 20, 1799.

SIR,

I Beg Leave to tranſmit, for the Information of my Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, the incloſed Extract of a Letter I received from Captain Portlock, of His Majeſty's Sloop Arrow, giving an Account of the Capture of a Ship and Brig of ſuperior Force. The Gallantry and good Conduct diſplayed on the Occaſion by Captains Portlock and Bolton, their Officers and Ships' Companies, merit my higheſt Praiſe and Thanks.

I Have the Honor to ſtate to you, that in Obedience to your Order of the 9th Inſtant, I immediately got under Weigh, accompanied by the Wolverene, and proceeded on the Service you did me the particular Honor to entruſt to my Care.

On the Evening of that Day, the Tide of Flood being done, we anchored abreaſt of the Texel; and on the Afternoon of the following Day we anchored on the Edge of the Flack or Flat, abreaſt of Wieringen: at this Anchorage I found it neceſſary to lighten the Ship, which was very ſpeedily done, bringing her from Twelve Feet Eight Inches to Twelve Feet, and on the Day following we turned over the Flack, carrying Shoal Water from one Side to the other. On the Morning of the 12th Inſtant we weighed again and proceeded on for the Fly Iſland, on approaching which we ſaw a Ship and Brig at Anchor in the narrow Paſſage leading from the Fly Iſland towards Harlingen: it was ſoon perceived they were Veſſels of Force, and bearing the Batavian Republic Colours; we approached, the Britiſh and antient Dutch Colours flying together, until within Half Gun-ſhot of the Brig, ſhe being the neareſt to us, without either of them changing their Colours: the Dutch Colours were then hauled down, and I made the Signal to engage the Enemy as coming up with them, meaning the Wolverene to engage the Brig and to paſs on to the Ship myſelf.

Captain Bolton anchored his Ship in the moſt maſterly and gallant Manner, and juſt in the Poſition I could have wiſhed, which was on his Weather Quarter, at a Quarter of a Cable Diſtance, and ſo as to have enabled me, had it been neceſſary, to give the Enemy a Broadſide in paſſing, without annoying the Wolverene, and after heaving on his Spring until his Broadſide bore on the Brig, fired One Shot juſt to try his Diſpoſition, upon which the Enemy fired Three Guns to Leeward and hauled down his Colours.

I made the Signal for the Wolverene to take Charge of the Prize, and desired the Officer sent on board to send her Pilot to conduct the Arrow to the Ship, (my Dutch Pilots having declined the Charge,) and requested of Captain Bolton to follow me to the Jetting Passage, where the Ship lay, and then pushed on towards her. We had to turn to Windward towards the Enemy against a strong Lee Tide which retarded our Progress much; she lay with Springs on her Cables, and her Broadside opposed directly to our Approach, and for Twenty Minutes before we could bring a Gun to bear with Effect on her, annoyed us very much, and cut us up a good Deal in the Hull, Sails, and Rigging; but after bringing the Ship up by the Stern and Head in a very narrow Passage at about a Quarter of a Cable from him, the Contest became smart but was short, for she struck in about Fifteen Minutes after we commenced our Fire upon her, and just before the Wolverene (which was pressing in the most gallant Manner to my Aid) came up. I sent my First Lieutenant to take Possession of her, and found her to be the Batavian Republic Guard-Ship De Draak, commanded by Captain-Lieutenant Van Esch, mounting Twenty-four Guns, Sixteen of them long Dutch Eighteen-Pounders, Two long English Thirty-two-Pounders, Six Fifty-Pound Howitzers, and One Hundred and Eighty Men. From the Howitzers I rather suppose Langridge was fired, as several Pieces of Iron were picked up in the Ship after the Action was over. Our Loss in Killed and Wounded (considering the Length of Time we had to advance on her under every Disadvantage, such as being exposed to her raking Fire for about Twenty Minutes, working Ship in a very narrow Navigation, shortening Sail, and anchoring) is very small, having only to lament at present the Death of One brave Man; there are Nine wounded, some of them badly, and myself slightly in the Left Knee.

The Loss of the Enemy I have not as yet been able to ascertain; Two dead and Three badly wounded were found on board her, and from the Appearance of great Quantities of Blood, &c. covered with Tarpaulins, which Captain Bolton discovered, I am led to think has been very considerable; indeed some of them confess that a Number were put into a Boat and sent to Harlingen immediately upon the Ship striking, and from the Number they at present muster not agreeing with the Establishment, I am induced to believe that was the Case.

On my going on board the Draak I found that she had been built for a Sheer Hulk, and converted into a Guard-Ship, extremely old; her Masts and Rigging very much cut, and the Vessel altogether unfit for His Majesty's Service, determined me to destroy her; I therefore directed Captain Bolton to perform that Duty, which he did effectually by burning her. This Service performed, we weighed and proceeded towards the Fly Island, at which Place we anchored on the 15th Instant. I immediately sent Captain Bolton to take Possession of the Batavian Republican Ship the Dolphin, riding at Anchor close to the Town of the Fly. She had on our anchoring hoisted the Orange Colours, and the same Step was taken on the Island. A Person came off from the Municipality desiring him to surrender the Island to the Government of the Prince of Orange; and I have the Honor to request you will be pleased to direct some Persons to be sent as soon as convenient to take upon themselves the Arrangement and Management of Civil Affairs in the Island.

The Island of Schelling has not yet adopted the same Step; I shall therefore, if it meets your Approbation, take the necessary Steps to induce them to do it.

To the Captains and Officers I have given Paroles, which Measure I hope will meet your Wishes. The Prisoners from the Ship and Brig, amounting to about Two Hundred and Thirty, I have put on board the Dolphin until I know your Pleasure respecting them (I think they will mostly volunteer for the Prince's Service): the Command of which Ship I have given (until your Pleasure is known) to Lieutenant M'Dougal of the Wolverene; this Officer, from his Zeal at all Times, (from Captain Bolton's Report,) but particularly so on the Service we were at present employed, I think, Sir, will merit your Protection; and now, Sir, permit me to have the Honor of expressing to you the Sentiments of Gratitude I feel at the Conduct of all those employed under me in this little Expedition; each Individual has behaved well. To Captain Bolton, his Officers and Ship's Company, I am particularly indebted for the gallant Manner in which he pushed his Ship on in attempting our Assistance; indeed I cannot but acknowledge the greatest Obligations to Captain Bolton for his Counsel at all Times.

To the Officers of every Description, Seamen, and Marines of the Arrow, I cannot sufficiently express my Approbation of their cool and determined Bravery; they acquitted themselves as Britons: to Mr. Gilmour, my First Lieutenant, the greatest Praise is due for the prompt Manner in which he caused my Orders to be executed in bringing the Ship to an Anchor under a heavy Fire from the Enemy; I therefore take the Liberty of recommending this zealous good Officer to your Protection; he is an old Follower of mine, has been Two Voyages round the World with me, and was One of the Three young Midshipmen that remained with Lieutenant Riou during the Distress of His Majesty's Ship Guardian; I therefore hope my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty will deem him worthy of Promotion. I have given him the temporary Command of the Batavian Republican Brig Gier, and shall send her round to the Texel as soon as possible. She mounts Fourteen long Dutch Twelve-Pounders, with a Complement of Eighty Men. She is a most complete Vessel, quite new, Copper-bottomed, well found, and never yet at Sea, and in every Respect fit for His Majesty's Service, only wanting Men. I mean to take Four of her Guns out for the Purpose of arming Four Schoots to act hereabouts, either on the defensive or offensive.

Underneath is a List of Killed and Wounded on board His Majesty's Sloop Arrow, and also a Statement of the British and Batavian Force.

Admiralty-Office, September 28, 1799.

Copy of a Letter from the Earl of St. Vincent, K. B. Admiral of the White, &c. to Evan Nepean, Eſq; dated the 24th Inſtant.

SIR,

I Encloſe, for the Information of the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, a Letter I have received from Captain Digby, of His Majeſty's Ship Alcmene, giving an Account of the Capture of a Spaniſh Ship and Brig laden with Naval Stores for the Arſenal at Ferrol, and a French Sloop from St. Domingo. I am, Sir, &c. &c. &c.

ST. VINCENT.

His Majeſty's Ship Alcmene, River Tagus, 30th July 1799.

MY LORD,

I Have the Honor to acquaint you that I ſtood into the Harbour of Vivero, on the 18th Inſtant, towards Sunſet, and running between Two Spaniſh Veſſels at Anchor, diſtant from each other near Two Cables' Length, I ſent Lieutenants Warren and Oliver with Parties armed to board them and make out, which Service they executed in a ſpirited and maſterly Manner. On their Appearance under ſail, Two Forts and a detached Gun opened round us, which I returned; the heavy Smoke of my Guns, and Day cloſing, prevented the Enemy directing theirs to Effect.

One of the Prizes named La Felicidad, a Ship between Seven and Eight Hundred Tons, pierced for Twenty-two Guns, is loaded with Hemp, a few lower Maſts, and Ship Timber; the other, named El Biſarro, a Brig near Four Hundred Tons, with Ship Timber and Iron, both bound to the Arſenal at Ferrol.

I am obliged to Mr. Hammond, commanding the Phœnix Privateer Lugger of Jerſey, for the Intelligence: he followed in, and gave every Aſſiſtance to the Prizes. On the 25th Inſtant I ſent him in chace, and he captured a French Sloop from St. Domingo, bound to Bourdeaux.

I have the Honor to be, &c. &c. &c.

H. DIGBY.

Earl of St. Vincent, K. B.
Admiral of the White,
&c. &c. &c.

St. James's, September 25, 1799.

THIS Day the Right Honorable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Common-Council of the City of London, waited upon His Majeſty (being introduced by the Lord in Waiting) with the following Addreſs, which was read by Sir John William Roſe, the Recorder:

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common-Council aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WITH the deepeſt Senſe of Gratitude to the Giver of all Victory, and Supreme Diſpoſer of all Events, we, your Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common-Council aſſembled, humbly approach your Royal Preſence to teſtify the Joy which we feel at the very important and repeated Succeſſes of the Imperial Armies of Auſtria and Ruſſia, whoſe Energy, Fortitude, and Perſeverance, aided by the Co-operation of your Majeſty's Naval Forces, have reſcued the States of Italy from the galling Yoke of French Oppreſſion, and reſtored to them the Benefits and the Bleſſings of regular legitimate Government.

But our warmeſt Congratulations are particularly called forth, at this Moment, by the glorious Atchievements of your Majeſty's Forces under the Command of Admiral Lord Duncan, Vice-Admiral Mitchell, and Lieutenant-General Sir Ralph Abercromby; by whoſe Bravery, Zeal, and unremitting Exertions, a Landing was effected upon the Coaſt of Holland, the oppoſing Enemy vanquiſhed, and what remained of their Navy, from the former ſplendid Victories gained by your Majeſty's Arms, was compelled to ſurrender.

We ardently hope that this brilliant Exploit will be productive of the moſt ſalutary and permanent Effects, by reinſtating the illuſtrious Houſe of Orange in its antient Rights, by reſcuing a brave People from the Uſurpation and Tyranny of French Rulers, and by renewing and cementing that Friendſhip and Alliance between the Two Countries, which is eſſential to their mutual Intereſts and Security.

When we conſider the great and unparalleled Strength of your Majeſty's Navy, the Bulwark of our Country, and the Support of our widely-extended Commerce, we feel the Value of that Conſtitution which, while it gives the largeſt Scope to human Induſtry, augments, in full Proportion, the Means of its Protection.

The degraded State of thoſe European Powers who have been either ſeduced by the Arts, or conſtrained by the Arms of France, has diſcovered the Effects of that pretended Liberty, which is the Maſk only of Deſpotiſm, as it is the Parent of Miſery. Britain has manifeſted to the World that no Government can equal that of a Patriot King, ruling over, and reigning in the Hearts of a free, brave, and united People.

May the Objects of your Majeſty and your great and powerful Allies be effectually accompliſhed, by circumſcribing the wild and boundleſs Ambition of France, and reſtoring Peace, Harmony, and good Government to Mankind.

Signed by Order of Court,

WILLIAM RIX.

To which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to return the following moſt gracious Anſwer:

I Thank you for this very affectionate and loyal Addreſs.

The warm Intereſt which you take in the great and ſignal Succeſſes that have been obtained by My Allies in Italy, aided by the Co-operation of My Naval Forces in that Quarter, and your cordial Congratulations upon the important Advantages already obtained by My Land and Sea Forces in Holland, in the Progreſs of the Exertions which I am making, in Concert with My Allies, to reſtore to the United Provinces their Religion, Liberty, and Independence, are highly grateful to Me, and cannot fail to ſecure to my loyal City of London the Continuance of My eſpecial Favor and Regard.

They were all received very graciouſly, and had the Honor to kiſs His Majeſty's Hand.

Notice to Volunteers from the Militia who have not yet joined Regular Corps.

WHereas ſeveral Men, diſcharged from the Militia for the Purpoſe of enliſting into the Regular Forces, may have been prevented by Sickneſs, or other unavoidable Cauſes, from repairing to the Places to which they had been ordered, and may now be at a Loſs how to proceed; Notice is hereby given to the ſaid Volunteers, that they are immediately to repair to Chatham Barracks, from whence they will be forwarded to the particular Regular Regiments in which they had voluntarily declared their Intentions of enliſting.

Given at the War-Office, this 16th Day of September, 1799.

By His Majeſty's Command,

W. Windham.
